glasses, vases and lamps in glass

ABOUT

+FRAGILE is a design and architecture practice based in Venice, founded by architect Francesca Torsello.

The project grew out of a family culture rooted in architecture and restoration, and its research revolves around fragility, understood in its social, territorial and material dimensions.

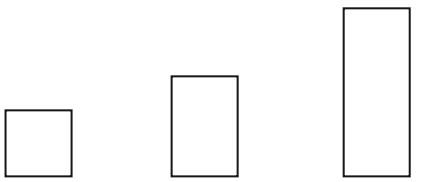

COLLECTION

ORIGAMI

A folded sheet, made of glass.

Hand-blown glasses, clear or cased — with a veil of white inside or outside the glass. The hexagonal section and the folds crossing the hammered surface make every piece unique.

Three heights on the same base: the tallest also works as a small carafe or vase, and together they make a set of three.

ORIGAMI

CLEAR

Blown glass lets the light through and multiplies its reflections: for water, wine, a cocktail or a few flowers.

ORIGAMI

CASED

A veil of white, inside or outside the glass: colour outside and white inside, or the other way round. Full-bodied and opaque, they are glasses but also vases to arrange, mixing heights and versions.

UFO

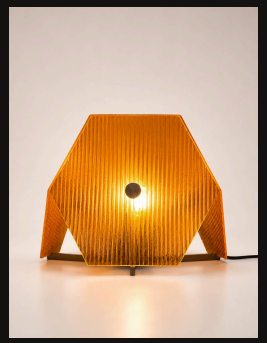

Table lamp.

A sequence of hexagonal Murano glass panels forms the diffuser, held by a minimal steel frame. The light passes through the texture of the glass and spreads across the wall.
